WELCOME TO DAYTON, OHIO

the Birthplace of Aviation and so much more!

DAYTON IS WHERE BROTHERS WILBUR AND ORVILLE WRIGHT lived and worked and made their dream of man-in-flight a reality. Located at the intersection of I-75 and I-70, the "Crossroads of America," where opportunities for discovery, learning and fun await visitors to Dayton/Montgomery County.

Here, you can trace the story of aviation from its infancy in the Wright Brothers' bicycle shop, along the driving stops of the Aviation Trail, at the four primary sites of the Dayton Aviation Heritage National Historical Park, and in the world-renowned National Museum of the United States Air Force. Today, the latest innovations in aerospace technology are being developed at the Air Force Research Labs at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. There is no other place in the world where visitors can see and experience the authentic story of the past, present and future of aviation.

The National Museum of the United States Air Force is the world's largest and oldest military aviation museum, and Ohio's most visited free tourist attraction, featuring 17 acres of exhibit space, more than 360 aerospace vehicles from hot air balloons to presidential aircraft and the NASA Space Shuttle Crew Compartment Trainer. Stop in the connected National Aviation Hall of Fame to learn about pioneers of flight.

Dayton's innovative spirit is also evident in its other world-class attractions. Dayton's Carillon Historical Park features the Wright Flyer III, the world's first practical airplane and the only plane to be recognized as a National Historic Landmark, plus 30 historic buildings on a 65-acre campus that tell the creative and inventive history of Dayton.

The Dayton Art Institute is regarded as one of the nation's best mid-sized art museums and features works by world-famous painters, such as Monet and Degas. Visitors of all ages can explore and learn at the Boonshoft Museum of Discovery where adventures range from the Discovery Zoo, the Caryl D. Philips Space Theater and Planetarium Observatory and the Science-Technology Center to natural history museum exhibits. Or, step back in time at SunWatch Indian Village, a reconstructed 800-year-old Fort Ancient Indian village.

In the mood for some outdoor adventure? Dayton's Five Rivers MetroParks offer nearly 16,000 acres of green space in 24 parks including arboretums, gardens, farms, prairies, lakes, rivers and trails. The Dayton Dragons, a Class-A affiliate of the Cincinnati Reds, and professional sports record-holders for the most consecutive sold-out games, wow crowds in the 7,200-seat Fifth Third Field in downtown Dayton.

Amazing cultural experiences abound in Dayton, where the Dayton Ballet, the Dayton Philharmonic, the Dayton Opera, the Dayton Contemporary Dance Company and the Victoria Theatre Association, among other performing arts groups, astound audiences. Visitors also are certain to enjoy the plethora of local independent restaurants and unique shopping venues.

You'll find our community provides big city amenities coupled with Midwestern charm and hospitality. We invite you to explore, to experience and to engage yourself in our community, and we pledge to do our best to make your stay here fun, exciting and memorable. For additional assistance in planning your visit, please call the Dayton/Montgomery County Convention & Visitors Bureau at 800/221-8235 or visit www.daytoncvb.com.

A DAY IN DAYTON: TAKE FLIGHT

Navigate your way to aviation sites, delicious dining and exciting nightlife.

9 A.M. Kick off your day with a fun-filled exploration of the National Museum of the United States Air Force (937/255-3286, www.nationalmuseum.af.mil), the world's largest and oldest military aviation museum and the state's most visited free attraction. Check out more than 360 aerospace vehicles and missiles from various wars throughout history, get in on the action with a simulated space shuttle landing in the Crew Compartment Trainer exhibit, or take in a show at the new Digital 3D Theatre — the largest screen in Southwest Ohio. Adjacent to the museum, you'll find the National Aviation Hall of Fame (937/266-0944, www.nationalaviation.org), dedicated to honoring individuals who have uniquely contributed to America's rich legacy of aviation achievement. The Hall of Fame houses exhibits dedicated to famous flyers such as Amelia Earhart, the Wright Brothers and Charles Lindbergh, and covers the full arena of flight including military, commercial, sport aviation and space flight.

NOON At lunchtime, visit hometown Marion's Piazza (937/435-3300, www.marionspiazza.com), where you'll devour delicious Italian pies in an indoor courtyard or for New York style pizzas that soar over and over before landing in the oven, zip off to Dayton's Flying Pizza (937/222-8031, www.originallyflyingpizza.com), which has several locations including Dayton and Centerville.

1 P.M. Return to the origins of flight at Carillon Historical Park (937/293-2841, www.carillonpark.com), home to the 1905 Wright Flyer III, the world's first practical airplane created and piloted by the Wright Brothers and the only plane recognized as a National Historic Landmark. While at the Park, check out Ohio's largest carillon and the Carillon Brewing Company (opening in 2014), the first brewery in an American museum, where period techniques are demonstrated. Kids can explore the juvenile manufacturing company and the soapbox derby display, ride the Carousel of Innovation or view the Dayton-made NCR cash registers. Then, buy tickets to embark on a tour of Hawthorn Hill, the Wright Family mansion.

3 P.M. Some of the region's most treasured historic sites are part of the Dayton Aviation Heritage National Historical Park, which tells the story of Dayton's airplane inventors Wilbur and Orville Wright and their childhood friend, Paul Laurence Dunbar, the nation's first recognized African-American poet and writer (937/225-7705, www.nps.gov/daav). Explore where the Wright Brothers first imagined man in flight at the Wright Cycle Company and Wright-Dunbar Interpretive Center, which also houses the Parachute Museum. Next experience the National Park's Huffman Prairie Flying Field and Interpretive Center, or various stops along the Aviation Trail driving tour.

5:30 P.M. When it's time for dinner, Dayton serves up selections sure to please any palate. Feast on steaks, lobster, crab legs and other ocean specialties, plus an extensive wine selection at Jay's Seafood (937/222-2892, www.jays.com). Or, head to the laid back Dublin Pub (937/224-7822, www.dubpub.com), purveyor of Irish favorites such as shepherd's pie, Irish whiskey chops and beef stew.

7 P.M. At night, entertainment is yours for the taking in downtown Dayton's historic Oregon District (937/224-1518, www.oregonartsdistrict.com), home to eclectic shops, art galleries, restaurants, a comedy club and The Neon movie theater (937/222-7469, www.neonmovies.com). In the mood for bars and dance clubs? Recently listed as one of America's 55 Best Bourbon Bars by Bourbon Review, The Century Bar (937/223-3382, www.centurybourbon.com) offers more than 150 different whiskeys, while Wheat Penny Oven and Bar (937/496-5268, www.wheatpennyydayton.com) is known for its Kate's Whiskey Sour, as well as its pizza. Or, spend the evening cheering on your favorite team or listening to live music at one of Dayton's craft breweries: Toxic Brew Company (937/995-3618, www.toxicbrewcompany.com), Fifth Street Brewpub (937/443-0919, www.fifthstreet.coop) or Warped Wing (opening 2014, www.warpedwing.com).

A DAY IN DAYTON: CULTURAL ADVENTURES

Spend a fun-filled day taking in history, science, the arts and great outdoors.

9 A.M. History and culture intertwine at SunWatch Indian Village and Archaeological Park (937/268-8199, sunwatch.org), the site where the Fort Ancient Indians lived 800 years ago. Explore the Interpretive Center, permanent exhibits and reconstructed village. Embark on self-guided or enhanced group audio tours.

11:30 A.M. When it's time for lunch, fill up on award-winning pizzas, giant sandwiches and other Italian specialties at Marion's Piazza, a Dayton institution for 45 years with locations around the city (www.marionspiazza.com). Or, dine on fresh salads and other fine fare at the hip Coco's Bistro. (937/228-2626, www.228coco.com)

1 P.M. Children of all ages will love spending an interactive afternoon at the Boonshoft Museum of Discovery (937/275-6545, www.boonshoftmuseum.org). Explore 94,000 square feet of traveling and permanent exhibits. Visit "Splash" to learn about water conservation, or view the "floating" hologram globe "Science on a Sphere" that allows visitors to traverse continents and outer space. Watch stunning 2D and 3D movies in the Caryl D. Phillips Space Theater, or encounter playful river otters, prehensile-tailed porcupines, meerkats, skunks and other species at the popular Discovery Zoo. If outdoor nature is more your speed, immerse yourself in the beautiful Wegerzyn Gardens MetroPark (937/277-6545, www.metroparks.org), which boasts 10 formal gardens including the Federal, Memory and Victorian gardens. The Children's Discovery Garden offers interactive play stations and nature programs for youngsters. Need more ways to explore the outdoors? Rent a bike at RiverScape MetroPark (www.metroparks.org/riverscape), and select a route on the 330 miles of paved bike trails.

3 P.M. Explore 5,000 years of art history at the striking Italian villa-styled Dayton Art Institute (937/223-5277, www.daytonartinstitution.org), one of the area's top fine arts museums. Over the past several years, the museum's collection has grown significantly through generous gifts of artwork by local donors, including important Oceanic art, Asian art and American fine and decorative art collections. Kids will enjoy The ExperienceCenter, an interactive gallery. Grab an appetizer at the airy Leo Bistro between browsing Pre-Columbian, European, Asian and contemporary art. Or, if you're a car buff, drive to the Citizen's Motor Car Company: America's Packard Museum (937/226-1710, www.americaspackardmuseum.org), where classic car enthusiasts can admire more than 50 automobiles, including limousines, in a restored Art Deco Packard showroom.

5:30 P.M. When it's dinnertime, you won't want to miss one of the nation's great steakhouses, an iconic Dayton restaurant, The Pine Club (937/228-5371, www.thepineclub.com). Or, enjoy delectable gourmet entrees such as prosciutto-wrapped salmon or a filet of beef, finished off with theater-themed desserts at Citilites (937/222-0623, www.schustercenter.org/citilites), before heading off for a night on the town. Located inside the Benjamin and Marian Schuster Performing Arts Center, Citilites opens for dinner 2 1/2 hours before most showtimes.

7 P.M. A trip to Dayton isn't complete without experiencing the community's outstanding arts. Spend an evening at the Cesar Pelli-designed Benjamin and Marian Schuster Performing Arts Center (937/222-2892, www.schustercenter.org), home to the city's most talented performing companies. Marvel at the graceful movements of the Dayton Ballet (937-224-3521, www.daytonperformingarts.org/ballet), the nation's second-oldest ballet troupe. Listen to the majestic sounds of the Dayton Philharmonic Orchestra (888/228-3630, www.daytonperformingarts.org/philharmonic), enjoy a stirring performance by the popular Dayton Opera (888/228-3630, www.daytonperformingarts.org/operas), or see Broadway's biggest touring hits when they stop in Dayton.

DAYTON AVIATION HERITAGE NATIONAL HISTORICAL PARK

937/225-7705, www.nps.gov/daav

This collaboration between the National Park Service and some of the region's most treasured historic sites includes those destinations listed here, plus the Wrights' home Hawthorn Hill, to which Dayton History offers tours. The National Park pays tribute to Dayton's influential, innovative leaders Wilbur Wright, Orville Wright and Paul Laurence Dunbar. See the simple bicycle shop where the Wright Brothers began their quest to invent a flying machine and discover artifacts once belonging to groundbreaking African-American poet and author Paul Laurence Dunbar.

PAUL LAURENCE DUNBAR STATE MEMORIAL

219 N. Paul Laurence Dunbar St., Dayton, 937/313-2010, www.daytonhistory.org/dunbarhouse

Explore Paul Laurence Dunbar's last home, which still includes many original furnishings. Dunbar was the first African-American poet and writer to gain international recognition. The house and interpretive center contain his original Remington typewriter, a bicycle — given to him by the Wright Brothers — and more pieces from the writer's life. The house was the first state memorial to commemorate an African American. Public tours are led by interpretive guides.

Open Fri.-Sat. 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Adults $6, children 6-12 $3. Children five and under and Dayton History members are free.

THE WRIGHT CYCLE COMPANY AND THE WRIGHT-DUNBAR INTERPRETIVE CENTER

16 S. Williams St., Dayton, 937/225-7705, www.nps.gov/daav

A designated National Historic Landmark, Wright Cycle Company on South Williams Street was the place where the Wright Brothers first dreamt of man in flight. The Wright-Dunbar Interpretive Center, located in the same building where the Wright Brothers operated their printing business, showcases exhibits that explore the lives of the brothers and Orville's high school classmate, poet Paul Laurence Dunbar. Learn about the life and legacies of these three men through a film and fascinating hands-on displays.

Open Wed.-Sun. 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Closed Mon.-Tues. Free.

OUTDOORS

GET BACK TO NATURE — DAYTON PARKS AND NATURAL AREAS OFFER BOUNDLESS OPPORTUNITIES FOR RECREATION.

Dayton's Five Rivers MetroParks is an expansive park system offering nearly 16,000 acres of green space in 25 facilities. The region boasts more than 300 connected miles of bike paths, making it the largest system of its kind in the nation.

Dayton is a bronze-level Bicycle Friendly Community, meaning every Daytonian lives less than 10 minutes from a bikeway. Many parks also offer free programming on everything from bird watching to photography or children's activities. For more information, call 937/275-PARK or visit www.metroparks.org. (Additional contact information is listed where appropriate).

AULLWOOD GARDEN METROPARK

955 Aullwood Rd. (south of Aullwood Audubon Marie S. Aull Education Center parking lot), Englewood, 937/275-PARK (7275)

One of the Miami Valley's most historic garden parks, it encompasses 31 acres of picturesque prairie, old-growth forest and a fragrant Lilac Lawn. Located at the former home of conservationists John and Marie Aull.

CARRIAGE HILL METROPARK

7800 E. Shull Rd. (off St. Rte. 201), Huber Heights, 937/278-2609, 937/878-8940 (Riding Center) Visitors can experience Carriage Hill's historical farm, which includes a barn, blacksmith shop, farm animals and period actors who demonstrate 1800s life. Camping, fishing, horseback riding and cross-country skiing are commonplace pursuits among the 900-acre park's many trails.

COX ARBORETUM METROPARK

6733 Springboro Pike, (north of the Dayton Mall), Miami Township, 937/434-9005 This beautiful 189-acre park includes hiking trails through forests and meadows, ponds and the Zorniger Education Center. Families will delight in the native Butterfly House, open during summer. Unique specialty gardens feature a rock garden; lush, colorful perennial gardens and an edible landscape garden. Enjoy this surprising, refreshing oasis right off I-75.

DEEDS POINT METROPARK

510 Webster St., Dayton, 937/275-PARK (7275) At the convergence of the Great Miami and Mad Rivers, this scenic point provides inspiring views of downtown Dayton and the Five Rivers Fountain of Lights. The park offers opportunities for bird watching along the Great Miami River Bikeway and has a bronze statue of Wilbur and Orville Wright.

EASTWOOD METROPARK

1401 Harshman Rd., Dayton, (Lake Entrance); 1385 Harshman Rd., Dayton (Park Entrance), 937/275-PARK (7275) Eastwood's 185-acre lake and link to the Mad River provide access to water sports, as well as biking and hiking trails, picnic shelters and a playground. Plan a visit during the annual October Midwest Outdoor Experience, the region's largest outdoor recreation festival.

ENGLEWOOD METROPARK

4361 National Rd./St. Rte. 40, Butler Township (East Park); 100 E. National Rd./St. Rte. 40, Englewood (West Park); 500 Old Springfield Rd., Union (North Park); 9331 Meeker Rd., Butler Township (South Park), 937/275-PARK (7275) An 18-hole disc golf course, the Stillwater River, three waterfalls and 12 miles of scenic trails are some of the wonderful features found at Englewood, one of the largest MetroParks.

GERMANTOWN METROPARK

6910 Bommershine Rd. (additional entrances at 7101 Conservancy Rd. and 7481 Creek Rd.), German Township, 937/855-7717

This MetroPark provides an abundant habitat for native species that make it an official Watchable Wildlife Viewing Site and Important Birding Area. Features include boardwalks, meadows, a ravine, an underground Nature Center and a 22-mile path with tent camping sites connecting to Twin Creek MetroPark.

GREAT MIAMI RIVER BIKEWAY

937/223-1271, 937/275-PARK (7275)

www.miamiconservancy.org

Ride the 75.5-mile paved route past charming towns, historic sites and shops. The bikeway is a symbol of Dayton's proud bronze-level status as a League of American Bicyclists Bicycle Friendly Community with more than 300 miles of bike trails.

HILLS & DALES METROPARK

2655 Patterson Blvd., Kettering, 937/275-PARK (7275)

Designed in 1907 by famed landscape architects the Olmstead Brothers, this restored urban park and natural refuge features hills, woods and wetlands, plus Adirondack-style shelters, a boardwalk, picnic areas and play areas for children.

HUFFMAN METROPARK

Entrances at 4439 Lower Valley Pike and 4095 Lower Valley Pike via St. Rte. 4 (exit at Huffman Dam Road), Fairborn 937/275-PARK (7275)

Bikers of all skill levels will enjoy eight miles of International Mountain Bike Association standard mountain bike trails winding through the MetroPark. Visitors can also enjoy Huffman Lake, the Mad River, hiking trails, and fishing and picnicking areas.

ISLAND METROPARK

101 E. Helena St. (at Riverside Dr.), Dayton 937/275-PARK (7275)

This downtown park is located where the Great Miami and Stillwater Rivers meet. Bikes in for a picnic, enjoy an afternoon of fishing, watch wildlife or simply relax beneath weeping willows and sycamores. The special water play area is open until 8 p.m. during the summer.

POSSUM CREEK METROPARK

4790 Frytown Rd., Dayton, 937/276-7062

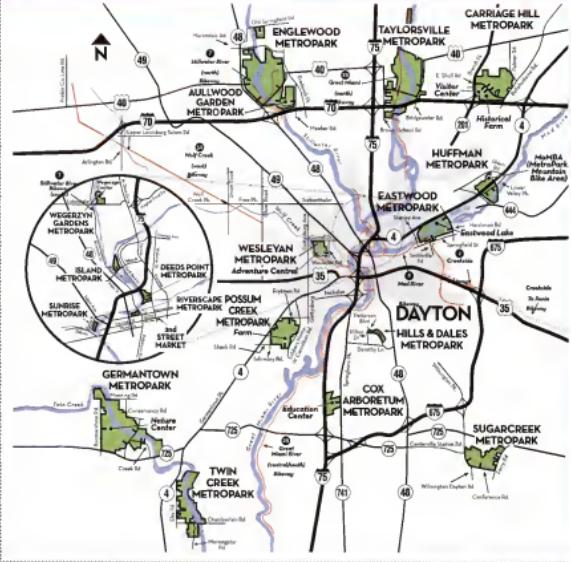

One of the state's most diverse planted prairies, this 556-acre park consists largely of old farmland in the process of natural succession. Outings here allow visitors to fish, picnic, hike, walk or horseback ride your way through scenic woods and prairies.

RIVERSCAPE METROPARK

111 E. Monument Ave., Dayton, 937/274-0126, 937/278-2607

This multi-season, multi-use park hosts fitness programs, concerts and festivals. Other features include bicycle rentals, splash pools, a splash pad and the Five Rivers Fountain of Lights, plus the Dayton Inventors River Walk, highlighting a few Dayton inventions ranging from the cash register to the airplane. In winter, enjoy the large outdoor skating rink.

DAYTON'S FIVE RIVERS METROPARKS MAP

SUGARCREEK METROPARK

4178 Conference Rd., Bellbrook, 937/275-PARK (7275)

Discover babbling brooks and full forests among the serene surroundings of this 618-acre park. Walk or jog paths like the Osage Orange tunnel to observe 550-year-old white oak trees.

SUNRISE METROPARK

50 Edwin C. Moses Blvd., Dayton, 937/275-PARK (7275)

It's worth getting up early to watch the sunrise above the Great Miami River, where catfish, bluegill, bass and carp are abundant.

SYCAMORE STATE PARK

4675 N. Diamond Mill Rd., Trotwood, 513/543-6347, www.ohiostateparks.org

Sycamore State Park spans 2,384-acres and affords picnicking, hiking, canoeing and row boating, fishing, horseback riding and overnight camping. Hunting is permitted with a valid Ohio hunting license in designated areas.

TAYLORSVILLE METROPARK

2000 National Rd./St. Rte. 40, Vandalia (South Park); 1200 Brown School Rd., Vandalia (West Park); 2005 National Rd./St. Rte. 40, Vandalia (North Park);

2101 National Rd./St. Rte. 40, Huber Heights (East Park), 937/275-PARK (7275)

Remnants of the Miami-Erie Canal, the deserted town of Tadmor and more can be seen at this park. The park's hiking trails are some of the best in the region, with vistas overlooking the Great Miami River.

TWIN CREEK METROPARK

Entrances at 9688 Eby Rd. and 10230 Eby Rd., German Township; 8502 Chamberlain Rd., Franklin Township, 937/275-PARK (7275)

Just 20 minutes outside of Dayton, this park is one of Five Rivers' most pristine natural areas featuring a pond, meadows, plants and wildlife, bridle trails and 2,000-year-old Hopewell Culture earthworks at Carlisle Fort.

WEGERZYN GARDENS METROPARK

1301 E. Siebenthaler Ave., Dayton 937/277-6545

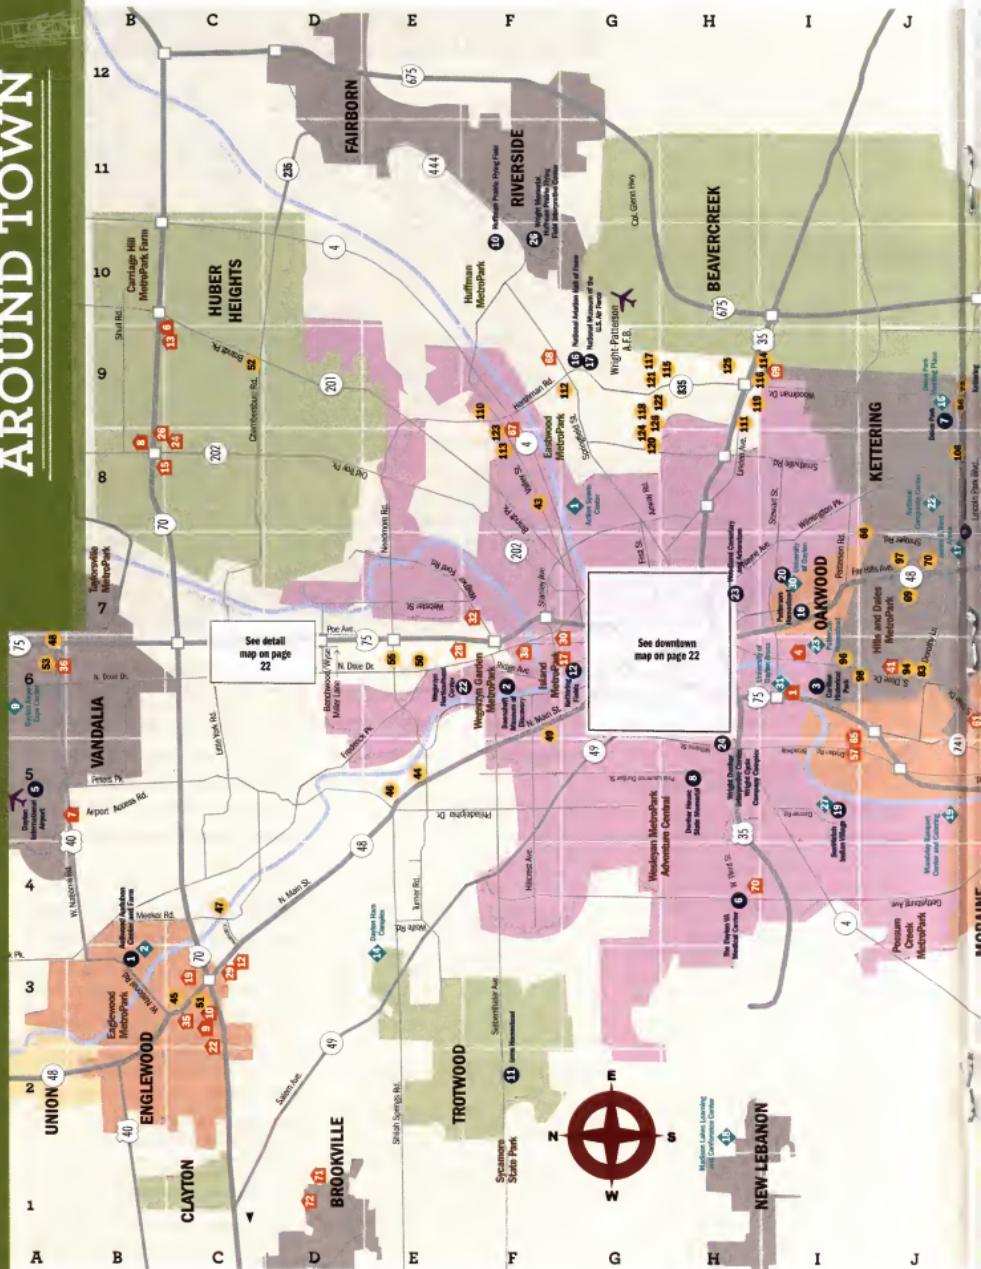

This whimsical park boasts 10 formal gardens including the Federal, Memory and Victorian gardens, as well as 6.5 acres of garden space available to local residents. The entire family can enjoy the Marie Aull Nature Trail and the interactive Children's Discovery Garden, where kids can "shake hands" with the plants in the sensory garden. Divided into three main areas, the Children's Discovery Garden offers opportunities to play among interesting and whimsical plant displays, learn about Ohio habitats and grow vegetables and other backyard plants.

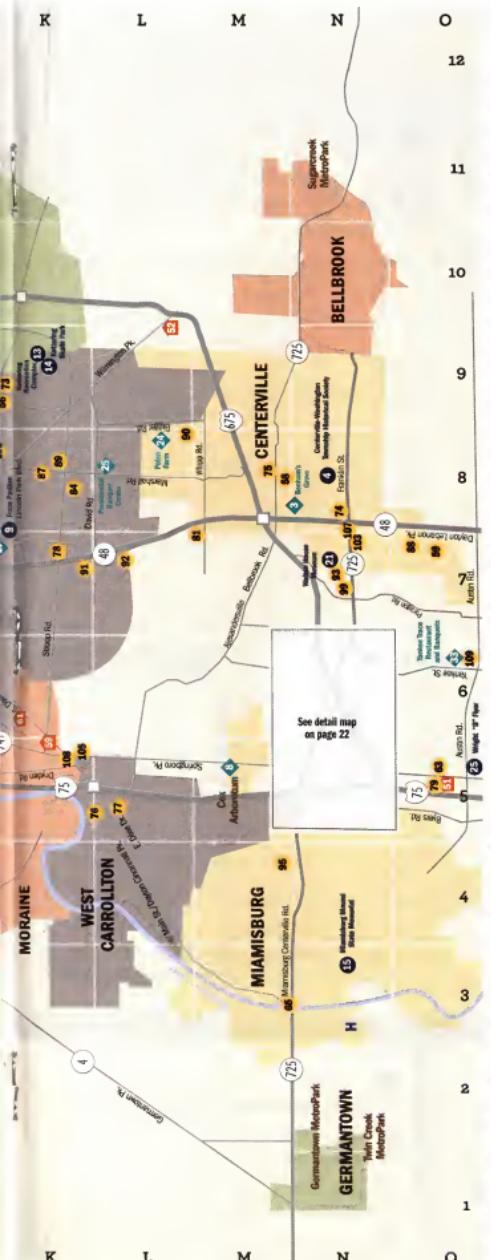

WESLEYAN METROPARK/ADVENTURE CENTRAL

1441 Wesleyan Rd., Dayton, 937/278-2601

Along the banks of Wolf Creek, this 55-acre park is a peaceful retreat within the Dayton city limits. Adventure Central, an education center formed by a partnership with The Ohio State University Extension, provides hands-on learning about the environment to urban youth.
